

AT MECHANICAL'S NEW MASCOT

June 2017

Outside of their office building, located in Melrose Park, AT Mechanical noticed a large bird that was struggling to fly. AT Mechanical, along with their neighbor, Kabi, contacted animal control and were directed to reach out to a rehabilitation center in Barrington, Flint Creek Wildlife Rehabilitation. They arrived onsite and rescued the injured hawk and took him back to be checked out. At the time, the rehab facility had a positive prognosis for our flying friend and we hope to hear good news soon on his release back into the wild.
